

About the research platform

- The platform is a cross-disciplinary collaboration between the School of Business, Economics and Law (HGU) and the IT-University (ITU) in Gothenburg
- It is funded by VINNOVA and the Swedish Research Council
- Research projects are run between 2008 to 2011, with a focus on three intertwined areas:
 - Intellectual Property and value creation in open innovation
 - Organizing aspects of open innovation
 - Information and Communication Technology (ICT) as means for openness
- Researchers come from the academic fields of Law, Organization and IT
- The research projects studies longitudinal innovation processes in industries such as automotive, telecom, and biotech, as well as reflecting and theorizing on the “openness” movement at a societal level.

About the research team

HGU/Law/CIP

Ulf Petrusson

Professor of Law, HGU

Henrik Rosén

Doctoral student of Law, HGU

Michael Plogell

Partner at Wistrand Law Firm

Kristoffer Schollin

Phd in Law, HGU

HGU/Organization

Torbjörn Stjernberg

Professor of Management, HGU
Project leader Open Innovation, VINNOVA

Björn Remneland

PhD in Business administration, HGU
Project leader Open Innovation, Swedish
Research Council

ITU

Jan Ljungberg

Professor of Informatics, ITU

Magnus Bergquist

Associate professor of Informatics, ITU

Jonas Kuschel

Doctoral Student of Informatics, ITU

Anna-Maria Szczepanska

Doctoral Student of Informatics, ITU

Network of associated industry partners and academic collaborations